A NATIVE OBJECTS.

He Insists That Some Hawaiians are Not Superstitious.

MR. EDITOR :- An article entitled "Kahuna Malpractice," in yesterday's issue of the Hawaiian Star, makes a wholesale condemnation of every native Hawaiian living in the Hawaiian islands, as being grossly superstitious. "Like all natives, from the highest to the lowest, he [George Kali Lokai] was a firm believer in kahunaism," etc.

The above quotation is taken from the article referred to, and I, as a native Hawaiian (although I am a half-caste, a native of Hawaii, nevertheless), wish to denounce Fine Teas, Fine Manila Cigars, that statement as false and very injurious to hundreds of other native Hawaiians, who are as pure christians as anyone confirmed by which we will sell at the very lowest the Archbishop of London. While price. it is true that a large proportion of from California and China. natives, like the Chinese, Japanese, as well as British and Americans for that matter, are superstitious and often resort to kahunas, yet there are a goodly number of natives in Hawaii nei today who are entirely free from any taint of superstitious belief. Surely the Star ought at least to exclude the two native editors of the Hawaiian newspaper Kuokoa from its condemnation. What is the use of disbelieving the powers of the kahuna if every native, without distinction, is to be classed as a heathen? I am glad to think, however, that there are many unprejudiced whites here who will not believe the Star's asser-JAMES N. K. KEOLA.

The Illustrated Tourists' Guide That popular work, "THE TOURISTS GUIDE THROUGH THE HAWAIIAN ISL-ANDS," is meeting with a steady sale both at home and abroad. Tourists and others visiting these islands should be in possession of a copy of it. It is a perfect mine of information relating to the scenes and attractions to be met with here. Copies in wrappers can be had at the publication office, 46 Merchant street, and at the News Dealers. Price
